

Four Seasons Hotel Washington, DC Royal Suite

Located at the entrance of Georgetown, steps from world-leading institutions and historic monuments, Four Seasons Hotel Washington, DC (fourseasons.com/washington) is located at the crossroads of DC's social and political hubs. Four Seasons Hotel Washington, DC is a timeless luxury experience where the tenured staff leverage a legacy of intuitive hospitality for high-profile guests, including global leaders and captains of industry. Guests will experience modern luxuries at one of the top private fitness clubs and spas in DC and a culinary destination with Michelin-starred chef Michael Mina.

Four Seasons Hotel Washington, DC offers some of the most sought-after suites found anywhere in the world, including the Royal Suite for guests who demand the best. Contemporary yet elegant, with hints of art-deco style, the exclusive Royal Suite allows guests to host unforgettable evenings on a private terrace overlooking 29th Street, work out in privacy with a personal exercise room, and unwind in the free-standing oval bathtub or, depending on your style, the fully stocked media room. ●

