NEW YORK-NEW YORK HOTEL & CASINO (WWW.NEWYORKNEWYORK.COM) features 12 New York-inspired skyscrapers containing more than 2,000 rooms, a high-energy casino, a 150-foot replica of the Statue of Liberty, and a 300-foot replica of the Brooklyn Bridge. New York-New York is home to Nine Fine Irishmen, Il Fornaio, New York-based Gallagher's Steakhouse, and the thrilling Roller Coaster, as well as the intimate 1,261-seat Zumanity Theatre featuring Zumanity[™], Cirque du Soleil's provocative cabaret-style production.

This year, MGM Resorts International unveiled details about the experience it's creating in Las Vegas surrounding the world-class 20,000-seat indoor arena under development with AEG, which includes transforming the front facades of New York-New York and Monte Carlo into an outdoor plaza experience featuring a series of casual bars, eateries, and retail destinations. New York-New York will modify its skyline and Brooklyn Bridge to create a wonderful environment brought to life through a vibrant patio culture and retailers new to the market. Anchoring the new experience will be the two-floor Hershey's Chocolate World[™] flagship store and an enhanced Nine Fine Irishmen, the hotel's Irish pub, which will include an expansion of its high-energy patio culture, both on the casino floor and the Brooklyn Bridge.

Between the two properties and leading back to the new arena will be a park environment featuring dining pavilions and performance spaces complemented by areas for quiet relaxation. The gateway to the park will feature a Shake Shack, a modern day "roadside" burger stand by restaurateur Danny Meyer's Union Square Hospitality Group. ●
