

Editors'
CHOICE

The Ritz Restaurant at The Ritz London

THERE ARE FEW DINING ROOMS IN THE WORLD that can compare with this majestic place of history.

Not only is the room itself a work of art and has been since the hotel opened, but the food and the service are among the best in the world.

There was a time when the Kings and Queens of England came often to The Ritz. They still do, and it's not unusual to see the Queen and other members of the royal family having a luncheon or a dinner.

It's wise to make a reservation because the best is appreciated by many throughout the world, and it's especially nice to be in this room, which has glorious historical moments and where you sit surrounded by beautiful things that cannot be duplicated in the present day.

This is a special place, and The Ritz is to be complimented for keeping its standards high through the years. Stephen Boxall is the Managing Director and keeps a sharp eye on everything, not only in the dining room but within the hotel itself.

The Ritz is a place to visit, and The Ritz Restaurant (www.theritzlondon.com/Dinner-Restaurant.html) is a must. If you have a list of things to do in your life, be sure to include this wonderfully, gentlemanly classic experience. ●

Counterclockwise from the bottom left: golden sculpture adorning The Ritz Restaurant; two views of the elegant restaurant

