

The Quin

THE QUIN (THEQUINHOTEL.COM), NEW YORK City's newest luxury lifestyle hotel, is located on the corner of 57th Street and Sixth Avenue in Manhattan. Each of its 208 thoughtfully appointed guest rooms, including 28 suites, melds modern opulence with its rich history. Guests appreciate urbane and intelligent services, from the Attachés, who curate a guest's New York experience, to amenities like an executive boardroom, state-of-the-art Technogym fitness center, Apple-equipped drawing room, DUX® beds by Duxiana®, Fresh® spa products, and a two-story artisanal American seafood grill, The Wayfarer. Quin Arts is an interactive arts program that celebrates the property's artistic heritage and produces exciting new platforms for contemporary artists.

Guests seeking a first-rate experience should consider the Terrace Premier Suite. This spacious corner suite features panoramic views of Sixth Avenue, from Central Park to the Freedom Tower. Its furnished, wraparound terrace offers sun lounges, an outdoor dining area for four, and a seating area, making it a distinguished place to relax alfresco. Inside, a king-size bed, a separate living and dining area for four, and a marble wet room with combined rain shower and bathtub ensure supreme comfort. With a sofa bed for one, the suite can accommodate up to three guests.

For visitors who will settle for nothing but the ultimate indulgence, the Penthouse Suite is the obvious choice. Glamorously stretching across the top three floors of the hotel, the triplex Penthouse features three bedrooms, including a master bedroom with a separate private balcony, 2.5 marble bathrooms, a full-service professional-grade luxury kitchen, and a dining room for 14. From the main living area, wall-to-wall oversize windows and glass patio doors lead to an expansive terrace featuring breathtaking views of Central Park, Sixth Avenue, and 57th Street. The open-air terrace caters to unforgettable entertaining and intimate events for 20 to 25 guests. Indoors, original artwork by Blek le Rat plus a Bowers & Wilkins surround-sound theater system further enrich the sophisticated open-plan great room. Simply the paragon of all Manhattan penthouses, the Penthouse Suite is one of Manhattan's newest and most sought-after spaces. ●
