

Editors' CHOICE

Wynn Las Vegas

DOZENS OF QUESTIONS COME INTO FOCUS IN THE DAYS and months leading up to a conference: How comfortable are the rooms? Will the WiFi work in every corner of the trade-show floor? What's the best restaurant to host a private dinner for key executives? Where should the opening-night party that attendees will still be talking about next year be held?

The award-winning team at Wynn Las Vegas and Encore (wynnmeetings.com, 888.320.7117) can ensure that every question isn't just answered but, more importantly, anticipated. Meeting planners who choose Wynn and Encore will work with a dedicated convention services manager, catering manager, and meetings concierge, each of whom will personally ensure that the needs of a group – no matter how large or small – are handled with expertise and finesse.

But perhaps what is most special about Wynn and Encore is the idea that, even when attendees are in the thick of a long meeting, they will still feel like they're in a truly inspiring environment. For example, many of the meeting and event spaces come with floor-to-ceiling windows, or open up onto terraces, so attendees can look out on the rolling hills of the Wynn Golf Club or the sparkling waters of one of Wynn's seven pools.

The stellar service doesn't end in the meeting space. Wynn offers a dedicated restaurant services team to assist with reservations and private parties, while the stylists at Wynn Collection are ready to put together a head-to-toe, banquet-ready look that is sure to turn heads. And when attendees retire for the night, they'll do so on the most comfortable, custom-designed beds on the Strip.

Wynn Las Vegas exterior (top right) and its excellent meeting and entertainment venues

