

World's Best Suites

L.E. Hotels

Top to bottom: the James Suite at The Garland in Hollywood; a Bay View Suite at Hotel Griffon in San Francisco; the view from a bedroom at The Lenox in Boston

L.E. Hotels (lehotels.com) is a global hospitality membership that represents a “limited edition” of independently owned and operated hotels throughout the world. Each hotel has its own unique personality, is well located, has compelling design and offers a genuine, local experience. L.E. Hotels provides its member properties a global sales advantage through its 12 international sales offices and is committed to maximizing business opportunities for each of its members. Properties benefit from an extensive variety of valuable sales, marketing and reservation services, all of which increase each hotel’s viability, visibility and revenues.

The seamless marriage of historic and modern design at The Lenox in Boston lays the foundation for 214 guest rooms and suites. From large

The Hotel Griffon’s luxurious Bay View Suites are located on the top floor of the hotel, offering panoramic, breathtaking views of the gorgeous San Francisco Bay, Ferry Building, Pier 14, Treasure Island and the iconic Bay Bridge. These well-appointed suites feature high ceilings, a spacious sitting area, a sofa that converts into a full-size bed, a coffee table, wet bar, 42-inch flat screen TV with Direct TV and more than 150 channels. The bedroom area has a cozy window seat and its own 32-inch flat screen TV, while the bathroom has an oversized tub for total relaxation. The suite is furnished with all the wonderful amenities available in the property’s deluxe rooms, and guests can expect nightly turndown service, eco-friendly bath amenities, plush bathrobes and a personal KEYPR in-room tablet.

In 1970, legendary Hollywood actress Beverly Garland and her husband, Fillmore Crank, decided to create a hideaway for friends, family and guests. Together with Las Vegas hotel impresario John Kell Houssels Jr., they decided to build one of the most stunning hotels in North Hollywood, which would serve as an oasis within the high-energy excitement of Los Angeles. In 2000, the Beverly Garland Hotel was handed down to their son, James, whose unpretentious yet sophisticated style influenced the expansion of the hotel into a true resort. Chic, relaxed and centrally located, guests are close to Hollywood landmarks, popular attractions and world-renowned business epicenters, all while being ensconced within the urban paradise the Garland family created.

Guests will feel like a star at The Garland’s James Suite, one of the most expansive in Hollywood. They can gaze out on a view of Universal Studios, entertain in the living room or relax in the private bedroom. The suite boasts 1,000 square feet of glamour, a separate master bedroom with a king-size bed, a spacious living area with a 50-inch LCD flat-panel TV, a wet bar, kitchenette with a full-size refrigerator & microwave, a master bath with a deep soaking tub and a shower room with two shower heads, and three balconies with views of Universal Studios. ● work spaces to 55-inch TVs, every detail is created with the guest in mind. The result is chic and comfortable rooms with unique features that appeal to any seasoned traveler.

Setting the bar high, the Penthouse Suites are the ultimate Boston experience. With 750 square feet of luxury, these urban chic apartment-style suites are outfitted with a private bedroom, oversized relaxation space, in-room safe, mini-refrigerator and executive work area. The Penthouse Suites also offer perks that include high ceilings, crystal chandeliers, wood-burning fireplaces and luxury bath amenities.

San Francisco’s Hotel Griffon invites visitors to experience what was voted “Best Boutique Hotel” and “Best 24-Hour Getaway” by San Francisco Magazine. Elegantly positioned along San Francisco’s stylish Embarcadero waterfront, the certified green hotel is the perfect choice for business and leisure travelers who seek a pleasant and charming alternative to a chain hotel. Guests will revel in an appealing, historic San Francisco boutique hotel (originally built in 1901) inspired by European flair while enjoying exceptional offerings that include well-appointed guestrooms and luxury suites, onsite dining at Perry’s on the Embarcadero, and a distinguished meeting space for business.

