The Benjamin New York

Centrally located in Midtown Manhattan near Rockefeller Center, MoMA and Fifth Avenue, The Benjamin (thebenjamin.com) is a boutique-style hotel designed by famed architect Emery Roth. The Neo-Romanesque style edifice, a New York City Landmark, promises to help guests be at their best with newly redesigned accommodations by Lauren Rottet, and thoughtful services and amenities, such as restful solutions by sleep expert Dr. Rebecca Robbins and Winks' Kidzzz Club for families. The National Bar & Dining Rooms by Food Network Chef Geoffrey Zakarian is housed on the first floor and showcases modern bistro cuisine in a chic grand café, in-room dining and private dining space. The Benjamin, a AAA Four-Diamond Award winner, offers more than 2,200 square feet of space for meetings, small weddings, private dining and special events. In addition, world-renowned stylist Federico Calce presents Federico Hair & Spa at The Benjamin.

Located on the hotel's top floors, the newly redesigned Signature Suites, some with balconies or terraces, range from 550 to 820 square feet, offering views of the Manhattan skyline. Each Midtown NYC suite has a separate living room complete with a queen a Snack Box by Chef Geoffrey Zakarian, and a full-sized, stainless-steel refrigerator. Impeccably lit bathrooms are tiled in white marble, featuring a full-sized electric mirror, shower, and bathtub, stocked with Elemis bath amenities. Signature Suite guests can expect extra service attention prior, during and after their stay with personalized service from the Les Clefs d'Or Concierge.

Guests seeking the ultimate stay will want to request The Benjamin Suite. Situated on the 22nd floor, the 1,620-square-foot pied-à-terre references the luxe and flourishing elegance of the Art Deco era intermixed with urban modern touches, such as hardwood flooring, velvet and satin seating, and a multichannel sound system. The space also boasts a rare custom burl wood dining table, pantry kitchen, a master bedroom, a master bathroom with a free-standing tub and a double rain shower, and an additional powder room for guests.

What visitors will truly delight in are the signature outdoor areas – a private balcony and fully furnished terrace, which offer a true sanctuary in the sky with a spectacular southern view of the Manhattan skyline and the opportunity of al fresco dining by Chef Geoffrey Zakarian's The National. The terrace hosts espaliered apple trees from Oregon in varieties of Honeycrisp, McIntosh, and Fuji, as well as stone planters brimming with ingredients such as a lime tree and mint for a refreshing mojito and tomatoes, basil, and oregano for a seasonal summer salad. ●
